

EMAN HUSSEIN

Eman.hussein@Howard.edu

EDUCATION

- Ph.D. The University of Jordan, Arabic Language and Literature, 2019
Dissertation: “Post Arab-Spring Novels, Linguistic and Critical Evaluation”
An analysis and study of post-Arab Spring novels, with a linguistic and critical evaluation of how Arabic authors portray the Arab Spring from a literary perspective.
Advisor: Dr. Mohammad Alqudah
- M.A. The Hashemite University, Amman, Jordan, Arabic Language and Literature, 2005
Thesis: “Ali Jawad al-Taher, Critic” The thesis focuses on the work of Ali Jawad al-Taher, an Iraqi critic, who is considered to be the pioneer of literary criticism in Iraq
- B.A. Yarmouk University, Irbid, Jordan, Arabic Language and Literature, 2000

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

Howard University, Washington DC

Instructor of Arabic Language, Department of World Languages and Cultures, Spring 2021-present.

Montclair State University, NJ

Adjunct Instructor of Arabic Language and Culture, Department of World Languages and Cultures, 2013-present.

William Paterson University, NJ

Adjunct Professor, Department of Modern Languages and Literature, 2020-2021

Bronx Community College, CUNY, NY

Adjunct Professor of Arabic Language Culture, 2013-2015

College and university courses taught:

Arabic and Islamic Culture, Beginning Arabic, I &II, Intermediate Arabic I & II, Advanced Arabic I &II, Introduction to Arabic Culture, 20th Century Arabic Literature, Arabic Reading, Arabic Grammar, Spoken Arabic I, Spoken Arabic II, Media Arabic

Experience in teaching online and hybrid classes using several learning managements systems including Canvas, Blackboard, Panopto, and TechSmith Relay

Freelance private tutor of Arabic as a foreign language, 2006 – present

Full Time Arabic Teacher, Jordan Department of Education, Amman Jordan, 2000-2006

PUBLICATIONS

Books

Hussein Eman, Sehwal Mazooz, Habra Jaqueline, Baab Il-A'rabiya: Arabic Textbook for High Beginners/Low Intermediate, Nextwave Web, 2017, www.nextwaveweb.com

Peer Reviewed Articles

“Narration of Chaos and Human Complexity in Fantasy, Novel Dog War II by Ibrahim Nasrallah” Al-Baath University Academic Journal, Volume 41, 2019.

“Portraits of Arab Women in Post-Arab Spring Novels” (in progress)

“Femininity and Masculinity in Jordanian Dialects” (in progress)

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

The Implementation of Technology in Teaching Arabic, American Association of Teachers of Arabic, Annual Panel, Virtual, October 2020

Arab Women in American Eyes, Social Justice Conference, Montclair State University, Montclair, NJ, March 2019

Fiction Betrayal of Arab Spring, Cincinnati Conference on Romance & Arabic Languages, Cincinnati University, Cincinnati, OH, March. 2019

PROFESSIONAL TRAINING

Language and Culture online workshop. Implementation of Online Teaching in Language courses, William Paterson University, 2020

Successfully completed four-week course training educators in online and hybrid teaching methods, 2016

Summer Institute on online teaching: Montclair State University, 2014

PROFESSIONAL SKILLS

Experience in teaching online and hybrid classes using several learning managements systems including Canvas, Blackboard

MS Excel, Word, PowerPoint, OneNote (advanced)

Proficient in Numerous Google Apps (Drive, Sheets, Docs)

Proficient in Numerous educational programs and Apps (Panopto, TechSmith Relay, Flipgrid, and Kahoot)

LANGUAGES SPOKEN

Classical and modern standard Arabic. fluency in most Arabic dialects including Levantine, Egyptian, Gulf dialects. English

SERVICE

Service to Institutions

Montclair State University

Helped program chair develop the Arabic minor into an academic major

Administered bi-weekly educational/social activities for the Arabic program and the Arab

Students Association (ASA)

Supervised an annual Study Abroad program in Amman, Jordan.

Participated in departmental efforts to increase interest in the Arabic Language and student enrollment in the program through outreach activities and innovative teaching technologies, cultural events, roundtable, talking about the importance of language and the region

Courses created or significantly revised:

Grammar Review

Reading and writing workshop

Arabic Media

Arabic Writing

Bronx Community College

Helped develop courses and prepare presentation to the faculty to make the Arabic program a permanent BCC program

Held a weekly round table about teaching Arabic

Service to the Community [Volunteer and Outreach]

PACC, Palestinian American Community Center

Taught Arabic conversation class to variety of non-Arabic speaking students. Summer 2019
Islamic Center of Passaic County, ICPC

Taught Arabic and Islamic studies at weekend school for children, 2012-2013 (academic year)

Reading Arabic stories for kids in public libraries